

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS :

1. An auxiliary spotlight diaphragm being pivotally provided around the outer circumference of a light source body in a light base of an automobile light comprising :

- 5           a first light-reflection portion;
- a second light-reflection portion, at least one hollow being provided in a predetermined position of said first light-reflection portion, so as for a flickering diode to be inserted therethrough and inlaid in said second
- 10          light-reflection portion; and,
- a third light-reflection portion.

2. An auxiliary spotlight diaphragm of an automobile light, as recited in claim 1, wherein a hollow may be provided in a bottom position of said second light-reflection

15          portion for a reflection piece to be inlaid therein.

3. An auxiliary spotlight diaphragm of an automobile light, as recited in claim 1, wherein a transparent ring may be provided at the front of said auxiliary spotlight

20          diaphragm.

25

25